DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 2/15/2005 has been entered.

The rejection over Quante is overcome by the removal of the S choice from claim 1 and by the narrowed definition of the donor moiety and linker in new claim 17.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-2, 17-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

~~The term "an ammonium cation" in claim 1 and 17 is unclear. Is this just NH_4^+ , or is a~~ substituted ammonium cation contemplated, and if so, substituted with what? The traverse is unpersuasive. The use of the indefinite article means that the term can reasonably be read as being any cation of the ammonium type, which would include the methyl-ammonium, etc. If applicants intend only NH_4^+ itself, applicants should either put that term in the claim, or use the definite article "the".

Claims 21-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

These new claims lack description in the specification. Claims 21, 23 and 25 each depict 3 species, so that these claims cover 9 species total. The examiner cannot locate any of these 9 species in the indicated locations, let alone enough species to cover the three of claims 21, 23 and 25 or the 2 seen in each of claims 22, 24, and 26. Even if these species fell within Formula I, which they do not, that would not suffice. A claim drawn to specific species requires description of those species, evidence that applicants possessed those particular species. Cf In re Rushig, 154 USPQ 118; Fields v. Connover, 170 USPQ 276, 280; Watson v. Bersworth, 116 USPQ 445; Flynn v. Eardley, 178 USPQ 288; Ex parte Westfall, 223 USPQ 631; In re Prutton, 96 USPQ 151; In re Honn, 150 USPQ 652; In re Fried, 136 USPQ 429. Such evidence is lacking here. These are simply 9 brand new species.

Claims 19-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.

The specification fails to teach how to use these compounds. These do not fall within the ambit of Formula I, to which utility is tied. Compounds of Formula I have a CH₂ group attached to the cephalosporin, and to which Z is attached via a single bond. These species meets neither requirement. Each has a CH group, not a CH₂ group, and Z is attached via a double bond, not a single bond. There being no other place in the specification which teaches the utility for this compound, these lack an ascribed utility, and hence are not enabled. The traverse is unpersuasive. Applicants point to page 7, line 13's "enzymatic fragmentation", and the corresponding data at figure 2. This provides utility for that one species. There is no claim directly solely to that compound. Claim 19 has that species, but also has two other species, and no utility is seen for them.

Applicants also point to page 7, line 18, and the corresponding Figure 6. However, that species is not within any claim, and hence, even if it did show utility, which is by no means clear, it is not relevant to different species.
